Snoobi Analytics GDPR Support - Check your Snoobi ID

When you visit this website that uses the Snoobi Analytics Suite and consent with cookies to be placed on your browser, a visitor ID is created and stored in a cookie. We do not store additional identifiable cookies in your browser and any information is for the exclusive use of the website owner.

The information below shows the Snoobi ID as it exists in the current browser for this website.

If you are using additional computers or browsers to access this site then you may have multiple Snoobi ID's for each browser.

If no Snoobi ID exists for this browser then you will see the the text 'You do not have a Snoobi ID for this website', otherwise you will see a message such as:

Your Snoobi ID for this website is: 1036644383-95ebcd4a9dd5d019e23c892a89fea683'

Your Snoobi ID for this website is: nnnnnnnn-NNNNNNNNN

You can use this information to check the various Snoobi ID's you have, but you can also request insight in the information a website has collected from your visits with this Snoobi ID.

You will need the copy the complete Snoobi ID and send that to the owner of the website for which you want to check your access details.

It is possible that no information exists. Any Snoobi ID may already been removed from the website analytics or otherwise scrambled.

In that case you cannot be recognized by Snoobi or the website owner so you are anonymous.

Please note that you cannot contact Snoobi directly for this information, as Snoobi can only work on request of the owner of the website and we have no direct access to your details.
